

I feel that the FCC should NOT implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. Indiana's Telephone Privacy law has already improved my family's quality time at home by not interrupting our privacy with nuisance sales calls. Indiana's law has been so effective in reducing unwanted calls in my home that we now receive very little if any calls, whereas before we had an average of 10-15 annoying unwanted calls every week. I strongly feel that Indiana's Telephone Privacy law is important and it should be allowed to remain in place. I do not feel that the FCC should have any impact on our own state's decision to help out its citizens. Thank you.
